Candice is a seasoned theatre nurse with two degrees and a diverse skill set who brings diligence and a keenness for improvement to any task set before her. She has worked in nursing for four years and is now seeking a new challenge outside of nursing to expand her horizons and help her grow as a professional.

Candice has discovered a passion for programming and has been learning numerous languages and libraries. She is now keen to begin a new career as a Front-End Web Developer and looks forward to seeing what opportunities this leads to in the future.
